

From: Shawn Fitzgerald
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 12:26am
Subject: Never Strong enough

Once again the government fails to meet the needs to protect the people that placed it in control.

A WEAK effort to slap the wrists of a Monopoly, is how I would grade your agreement.

After being FORCED from my job as a Consultant at Immedient Consulting inc. Dallas, TX due to threats by regional Microsoft executives, I believe the DOJ did not present their case very well. While I do believe that some of the Microsoft bashing is unfounded, I know that there are efforts to hold back Java and Linux development by Microsoft.

It amazes me that the government can't collect enough evidence to prove the FACTS that all US citizen's know. MICROSOFT IS A MONOPOLY!!!

Microsoft does not aggressively compete, they actively attack those that might offer innovation, or alternatives to a solution that is unstable, unscalable, and proprietary.

For future reference, why put out an Email address AFTER you have finished the case??? Why not publish an email address BEFORE the case, during the discovery phase, to help you find out where to look??? If you would have provided a way to give you evidence to prove your case, I'm sure you would have had warehouses of evidence.

Thanks.....For nothing!!!
-Shawn Fitzgerald
Java Consultant, Linux user, Windows sufferer.